Student Services and Programs at the University of Toronto

- Your college registrar: is your "reliable first stop" where you can get information, advice, or a direct referral. They provide broad, integrated advising on personal, financial, family, or career issues. They also conduct academic advising, especially on issues that go beyond a particular course. The colleges also advise on petitions and other rule-related matters. Their staff are also specialists in providing referrals to, and follow-up from, specialized U of T student services. Please consult Appendix 1 (page 13) for college registrars' contact information.

If you have questions or concerns or are facing issues that are getting in the way of your success, visit Services and Programs for Students.

- Financial counselling: is available through your Faculty, College, Division or Enrolment Services or by visiting the Financial Counselling Directory. Counsellors can help you navigate the array of government and University of Toronto programs, scholarships, and bursaries available to you. They can also help with budget planning and debt management.
- Specialized UofT Student Life programs and services provide professional support for students in a variety of areas.
- The English Learning Program supports all U of T undergraduates enrolled in the Faculty of Arts and Science whose first language is not English (ESL or multilingual students), as well as native speakers seeking to improve their English language skills:

Programs of Study in French

Arts and Science students must enroll in a program upon completing their fourth full credit towards a degree via their College Registrar's offices or the Student Web Services. No minimum GPA is required for enrolment in any of the French programs. Students must familiarize themselves with the requirements of their intended program and should consult an Academic Counsellor whenever clarifications are needed. To find out more about the programs currently offered by the Department of French consult Appendix 2 (page 15).

Placement Test

- ❖ If this is your first FSL or FRE course in the Department, you should have already taken the Placement Test. The only exception is for students with no previous French experience – classroom-based or other – who will enroll in FSL100H.

You must be registered in the course recommended by the Placement Test. It is not possible to take a lower level course in order to “brush up”. Your instructor will verify your Test results during the first week of class. If you have registered in a course other than the one recommended by the Test, you will be required to withdraw. Self-placement is not permitted. Please note that only the Associate Chair of Undergraduate Studies may authorize you to take a course other than the one indicated by the Placement Test; your instructor does not have this authority.

- ❖ Enrollment: for courses with tutorials, you MUST be registered in a lecture section as well as a tutorial section. Since some of the course assessment will take place in your tutorial, failure to enroll in a tutorial and attend regularly will have a serious negative impact on your grade. You CANNOT attend a lecture or tutorial other than the one in which you are registered, including to make up for missed lectures or tutorials. Tests taken outside of your lecture or tutorial section will not be graded. For Y (year-long) courses, it is NOT possible to change lecture or tutorial section at the start of the Winter Term in January.

Courses

For detailed descriptions of our courses, consult Course Offerings on the website

- ❖ All students need to familiarize themselves with Quercus (powered) by Canvas, which is U of T's Learning Management Engine (LME). The University of Toronto's Student Quercus Guide.
- ❖ Auditing is not allowed in FSL courses including by students on waiting lists.
- ❖ Native or fluent speakers of French are excluded from all FSL courses with the exception of those needing to improve their written and oral skills; these students may request permission from the Associate Chair of Undergraduate Studies to enroll in FSL442H1 or FSL443H1.
- ❖ Electronic devices (laptops, tablets, electronic dictionaries, e-readers, etc.) are permitted for course purposes only. E-mailing, web surfing, chatting, cell phone calls or any other non-course- related activity disrupts the learning environment and discourages participation. Please note that during a test, all electronic devices must be turned off and put away. As per the University of Toronto's policy, possessing an electronic device during a test or an exam constitutes an academic offence.

- ❖ Following the Canadian Copyright Act, course materials (including tests) prepared by the course instructor are considered by UofT to be the instructor's intellectual property. Students may not record a lecture without the explicit consent of the instructor. It is also absolutely forbidden for a student to sell, publish or post on any website an instructor's lecture notes and other course materials.

Assignments, tests, quizzes, and overall assessment

- ❖ Dates of all assignments and tests are indicated in the course syllabus; it is the responsibility of students to be aware of these dates. Extensions can only be considered with justification (official doctor's note or registrar's letter) and must be requested and granted before the due date. A late penalty may be assigned to late assignments; this will be stated in the course syllabus. No late assignment will be accepted more than ten days following the hand-in date. See the Faculty of Arts & Science Calendar.
- ❖ Submission of assignments - Your instructor will specify how assignments should be submitted (hardcopy in person or electronically). For assignments submitted by hardcopy, do not slip assignments under your instructor's door, as they may be lost. Always keep a copy of your assignments.
- ❖ Make-up Tests - As per the policy of the Faculty of Arts & Science (see the Faculty of Arts & Science Calendar, if a student misses an in-class quiz or test, s/he must contact the instructor within one week (7 days) of the announced date to arrange a make-up. In the case of illness, appropriate documentation such as an official U of T Verification of Student Illness or Injury Form signed by a physician must be provided. For all other reasons (e.g., family emergency), you must present a letter from your registrar. If a make-up is scheduled and you fail to attend at the date and the time agreed upon, you will receive a grade of '0' except in exceptional circumstances beyond your control. As per the Faculty of Arts & Science policy, tests scheduled within regular class time take precedence over tests scheduled for other classes outside of the latter classes' regular hours.
- ❖ Re-marking Policy - Students who believe that an individual assignment or test has been incorrectly marked may ask her/his instructor for a re-evaluation. Students must make such requests in writing within two weeks after receiving the work back. You should indicate the question(s) to be remarked and the justification for your request (e.g., miscalculation of grade). Please bear in mind that, in fairness to all students registered, marks are not negotiable. Requests for any reason unrelated to specifics of the grading of the assignment in question as outlined by your instructor (e.g., consequences of the mark for your final grade) will not be considered. All requests regarding remarking must be made first to your teaching assistant and not to the course instructor. If a remarking is granted, the student must accept the resulting mark, which may be lower, or higher or the same as the original mark.

❖ Attendance and participation - For the successful undertaking of all courses, regular attendance, and active participation in all course activities (both lectures and tutorials) are necessary. A portion of your final course grade will reflect both of these elements – lack of attendance and poor participation will negatively affect this portion of your grade; please consult your course’s evaluation scheme for specifics on the calculation of this part of your final mark. Since it is the Faculty of Arts & Science which communicates final grades to students, your instructor is not permitted to reveal your ‘Overall assessment’ mark or final exam result (if your course has either of these) or the final course grade until it has appeared in ACORN.

❖ Extra Assignments - Instructors and teaching assistants of all courses are required by the Department to follow the evaluation scheme established by the Department. No extra assignments beyond those indicated in the course syllabus are possible under any circumstance.

Other Important Information

❖ Punctuality - Please arrive on time; this makes for a much better experience for everyone. Late arrivals disturb the class and negatively impact the learning experience. Students arriving late for a scheduled test will not be granted additional time to complete their test.

❖ Accessibility Services - The University provides academic accommodations for students who require them. To receive special accommodations, students must register with Accessibility Services. To learn more about the service, please visit the Student Life website.

❖ Register as soon as you are accepted to the University or before classes begin is best.

Please note that your instructor may have other course-related requirements beyond those mentioned above. These will be included in his/her syllabus during the first week of classes.

Academic Honesty

Honesty and fairness are considered fundamental values shared by students, staff and faculty at the University of Toronto. The University's policies and procedures that deal with cases of cheating, plagiarism (representing someone else's work as your own), and other forms of academic misconduct are designed to maintain a community where competition is fair.

The vast majority of students are honest and hard-working. But even honest people can make bad decisions and accidents sometimes happen. Even if you think you know the rules, double-check. The consequences of not knowing the rules can be severe, and include failed courses, suspension, and in very serious cases permanent expulsion. Please consult the document Academic Integrity, including an outline of students’ rights and responsibilities.

POLICY CONCERNING THE USE OF QUERCUS AND E-MAIL

- ❖ Account: University policy requires that you have a UTOR mail account. All correspondence with your instructor and teaching assistant, including that via the Quercus course site, must be conducted using this address (i.e., no Hotmail, Yahoo, Gmail, or other external addresses). Non-UTOR addresses may be rejected by the University server. Instructors are not obliged to respond to e-mails sent from non-UTOR addresses; you are responsible for ensuring that you have a valid UofT email address that is properly entered in ACORN, and for checking your UofT e-mail account on a regular basis.
- ❖ Various announcements concerning upcoming classes, assignments, tests, etc., will be posted on Quercus. Students should consult the Quercus course page regularly for updates. Instructors and teaching assistants will not reply to e-mail concerning information already available in course syllabi, other handouts, or the course Quercus page.
- ❖ Instructors and teaching assistants are not obliged to respond to e-mail messages that they deem as unprofessional, disrespectful, or inappropriate; please review Netiquette – Guidelines for Academic Communication, Appendix 3 (page 19).
- ❖ Appropriate use - E-mail correspondence should be used only for administrative matters (e.g., make-up tests due to illness).
- ❖ E-mail should not be used for:
  - Inquiries regarding course grades. These should be discussed in person with your instructor or teaching assistant during office hours only.
  - As an alternative to meeting with your instructor during office hours, as a private tutorial (on grammatical explanations, for example), or to review material covered in missed lectures.
  - For electronic submission of assignments. This is only permitted in exceptional circumstances with prior special permission granted by your instructor.
- ❖ Self-identification - Please identify yourself clearly by including the course code and section (e.g., FSL221 L0101) in the subject line and your full name with student number in the message. Messages lacking this information may go unanswered.
- ❖ Response time - Instructors and teaching assistants will endeavour to reply to all messages within 48 hours of receiving them. If you do not receive a reply within this period, resend your message. Please note that no correspondence will occur after 6 PM or on weekends.

SCHOOL INTERNSHIP

Advanced-level students have the opportunity to participate in a school internship, a collaborative partnership with school principals and teachers of French from Toronto and the greater Toronto area. Since 2006, the internship has been integrated in the course FRE485 Teaching Young People's Literature.

STUDY ELSEWHERE – QUEBEC, FRANCE, OR BELGIUM

Students who have completed at least one year of full-time studies and wish to study abroad for one or two semesters should contact the University of Toronto Centre for International Experience Office or consult their website. Students may request credit for a course offered by the Department of French, subject to the general rules for eligibility.

THIRD YEAR STUDY ELSEWHERE

To be entitled to participate in the Third Year Study Elsewhere Program, a student must satisfy the following requirements: overall average of at least 70% in courses completed in second year, and an average of 70% in at least two French courses (FRE) required in a Major or Specialist program.

Information on these programs and on the Second Language Summer Program is available on-line.

TAPIF – TEACHING ASSISTANT PROGRAM IN FRANCE

The Teaching Assistant Program in France (TAPIF) is a joint initiative of the French Ministry of Education, the Centre international d'études pédagogiques (CIEP) and the Cultural Services of the French Embassy in Canada. The program's goal is to strengthen English-language instruction in French schools by establishing a native speaker presence, while also providing Canadian Francophiles with excellent teaching experience and first-hand knowledge of French language and culture.

Candidates must be Canadian citizens, under the age of 30. They must currently be students at the University of Toronto, have knowledge of French, and have English as a primary language. Priority is given to undergraduate students in their third year of studies. For more information, consult The Teaching Assistant Program in France or email the Liaison Officer and Study Elsewhere Coordinator.

SUMMER PROGRAMS IN FRANCE AND QUEBEC

- For Summer Immersion Courses in France, please consult the FLE website or contact the French Consulate
- For the Explore Program, please consult the Official Languages Programs website.
- For the UofT summer abroad courses in Tours, France, please consult the Summer Abroad website. Students enrolled in the summer abroad program are granted UofT credits.

For information on any of these programs, please contact Prof. Bessler, the Study Elsewhere Advisor.

Appendix 2

Type of Program & Program Requirements

Arts and Science students must enroll in a program upon completing their fourth full credit towards a degree via their College Registrar's offices or the Student Web Services (ROSI). No minimum GPA is required for enrolment in any of the French programs. Students must familiarize themselves with the requirements of their intended program and should consult an Academic Counsellor whenever clarifications are needed.

Students must satisfy the subject post requirements as outlined the year in which they registered in the program. Students having registered in these subject posts in previous year should consult the brochure from their year of registration.

In all programs and courses, the Department of French takes into account the quality of students' French as one of the criteria in the evaluation of assignments and examinations. A minimum of 20% of the grade will be allocated to this aspect of written assignments.
